Hey ,

We noticed you were browsing our skincare collection recently and picked out some fantastic products.

However, it looks like something made you pause before completing your order, and I'm curious about what that might have been.

Would you be open to letting us know what held you back?

I've put together a short 3-question survey that helps us understand your experience better.

Plus, there's a token of appreciation waiting for you once you finish!

It should only take 2 minutes, and your insights help us create a better experience for everyone (including you)!

Thanks so much,

The Seranova Team
